

International President Wm. F. Conway and his charming family are sold on California.

This inverted pyramid is made up of officers and members who were active in entertaining the delegates of the I. A. S. E. and M. P. M. O. Convention. From top, left to right—Paul Passy, Paul Hill, Ira Morgan, I. Secretary Roy Klaffki; Recording Secretary Art R... —Treasurer Charles P. Boyle; Vice-President Ira J...

Members of the Executive Board of Local 659 who were active in entertaining the delegates of the I. A. S. E. and M. P. M. O. Convention. From top, left to right—Paul Passy, Paul Hill, Ira Morgan, I. Secretary Roy Klaffki; Recording Secretary Art R... —Treasurer Charles P. Boyle; Vice-President Ira J...

Three of a kind—Howard Hard, 659; Ralph O'Hara and Thomas Malby, 110, Chicago.

2500 Happy Labor Devotees Out for An Eye Full in Filmland

Thousands of delegates to the Thirtieth Biennial Convention of the International Alliance Theatrical Stage Employees and Motion Picture Machine Operators, at the Westwood Studios of the Fox Film Corporation, on the first day of the convention, where they were treated to a delicious luncheon and a view of round pictures in the making. The occasion was the most notable gathering of the kind in the history of the studios. It was a

[Twenty-four]

Picture Machine Operators, held in Los Angeles, June 2-6, 1930, together with their families and friends, photographed on the first day of the convention, where they were treated to a delicious luncheon followed by an elaborate entertainment, with the producers as hosts. Their entertainment included a view of round pictures in the making. The occasion was the most notable gathering of the kind in the history of the studios. It was a

[Twenty-five]